"Dawn Bennett is a compelling speaker who grabs the attention of the audience and holds it with her expertise and humanity. Her message is high-energy, engaging, and behavior changing. I highly recommend her."

Beth M Anderson
Women of Words

Dawn Bennett empowers individuals, small groups, and large audiences to embrace powerful new ways to transform themselves and community dynamics with her unique blend of empathy, humor, and just enough attitude to challenge social norms.

She is committed to leading the tough conversations to help people understand the science, soul, and communication behind healthy, consensual touch to create more felt-trust in their homes, build loyal communities, and multiply opportunities for impact and income.

In her upcoming book, The Touch Crisis: Navigating the Tricky Terrain of Bringing Healthy Touch Back to Our Culture, Dawn openly shares her personal touch crisis and journey to healing to give readers a new pathway to personal and collective healing in their families, workplaces, and their communities.
